IObit Announces Advanced Mobile Care 4.0 as an Ultimate Solution for Mobile Security and Privacy

IObit, the provider of system utility software for PC and mobile security, optimization and maintenance to over 10 million active users, today is happy to announce its official release of Advanced Mobile Care 4.0 for Android.
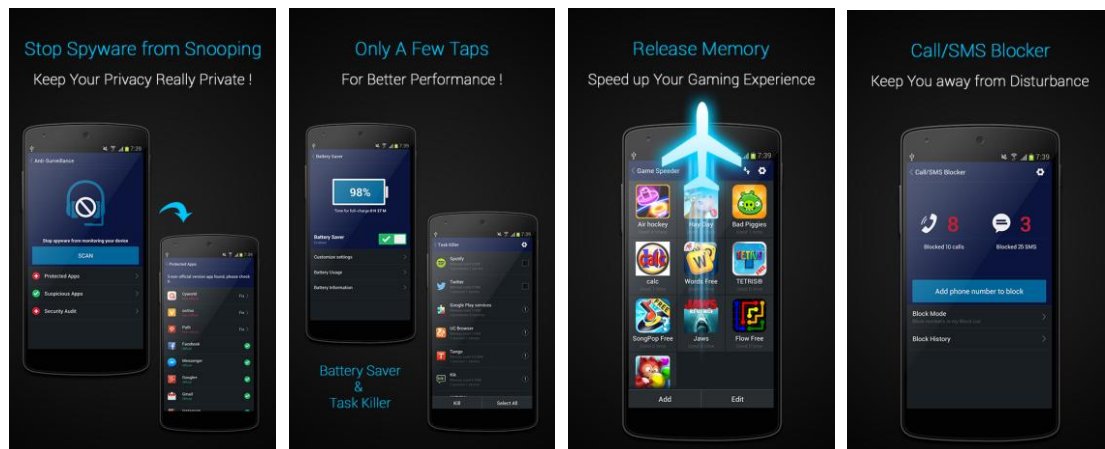

SAN FRANCISCO, (Jan 20th, 2014) —(BUSINESS WIRE)—IObit today released its mobile product Advanced Mobile Care (also known as AMC) 4.0 with over 20 embedded improvements, which brings a new streamlined interface and a set of useful Android tools such as new added Call/SMS Blocker, and Anti-Surveillance, among others.

Powered by a new generation of optimization engine, AMC 4.0 detects viruses, malware, spyware and suspicious apps on Android devices more comprehensively. It also speeds up Android devices up to 200% faster by cleaning tasks, cache, junk files, big files, residual files and privacy records. To enhance this security feature, along with the improved antivirus and anti-malware, AMC 4.0 adds a smart anti-spyware tool, Anti-Surveillance, which can dig out potential spyware attempting to record or monitor phone calls.

"We did a survey among 5000 Android users, of which over 52% believed an anti-spyware feature is a top must-have for Android, following by a cleaning feature like Clean Master. Additionally, another 15% of survey respondents tend to believe mobile malware and viruses are on the rise," said Carwin, the CTO of IObit Mobile, "So we believe an all-in-one app integrating multiple functions will effectively benefit all Android users," Carwin noted. Even though the new enhancements and versatile functions work better than many paid apps, the new AMC will still be free on Google Play.
